

KING GEORGE.

Greek Forces to Fight Turkey.

ENGLAND DECLINES TO BLOCKADE.

Paris, Feb. 18.—A dispatch received from Athens says that King George is to take command in person of the Northern army, adding that he is reported to have said that he preferred to die in battle than to be an exiled king, which, according to the dispatch, would be his fate in the event that he did not take the lead in the present crisis.

ENGLAND DECLINES

To be a Party to a Blockade of Piraeus.

Berlin, Feb. 19.—It is learned that the proposal of Germany to blockade the Piraeus, the port of Athens, in order to put a check upon the warlike ardor of Greece, was vetoed by Great Britain and there is little prospect of its being adopted.

This, with other information, tends to strengthen the belief that the great Powers are not seriously opposing Greece.

Col. Vassos, the Commander-in-Chief of the Greek army of occupation in Crete, in the name of King George, is establishing there a system of administration.

The municipal elections are already proceeding and Mayors have been installed in the towns and villages outside of Candia, Heraklion, Retimo and Sitia.

IMPOSSIBLE TO RECEDE.

So Says Greece to the Representatives of the Powers.

Athens, Feb. 19.—M. Skouzes, the minister for foreign affairs, has replied to the last communication from the representatives of the Powers, saying it is impossible for Greece to recall her troops to Roda so long as the excitement continues in Crete.

MACEDONIANS.

A Thousand Strong They Join the Greek Forces.

Rome, Feb. 19.—A special dispatch received from Larissa, Greece, says that a thousand Macedonians have crossed the frontier and joined the Greek forces.

Russia Preparing for War.
St. Petersburg, Feb. 19.—There is no longer the least doubt that Russia is preparing for war—not necessarily to declare war—but to meet any necessity in connection with the Eastern crisis. Even the Red Cross Society in Russia is taking active steps in the same direction.

A FOREIGN MISSION

For Alfred Halstead, Son of the Great Editor.

Canton, Feb. 19.—It seems to be settled that Alfred Halstead, son of Murat Halstead, the great newspaper man, will be appointed to an important foreign mission. What one is not yet decided, but it is believed he will get a European birth.

Ex-Congressman Gary, of Maryland, is in conference with President-elect McKinley today with reference to the postmaster generalship, which it is understood has been offered him. Mr. McKinley is decidedly improved in health, and is much stronger today than yesterday, but will be compelled to limit the number of audiences given.

GOMEZ OUTWITS WEYLER

And Passes To His Rear.—Captures a Spanish Fort.

President-elect McKinley Better.—Trying to Save Walling.

Key West, Feb. 18.—Private information has been received in this city of the whereabouts of Gen. Gomez. He has succeeded in sliding by Gen. Weyler, and is now between him and Havana. Gomez gave the command for an advance with strict orders that any man that struck a match or smoked would be court-martialed. He then advanced on the Moron tracha in the Eastern end of the island with 5,000 cavalry and 10,000 infantry. He advanced on the fort at midnight, and when he saw he was discovered by the Spaniards, who fired on him, he ordered the cavalry to charge. They swooped down on the fort and captured it and the whole army went across the trocha.

All of the arms and ammunition of the fort were captured. The army then continued the march and was encamped at Veguete when the news was sent to this city by a courier. His order in taking the fort was to use the machete only, and the cavalry made a gallant fight.

SECRETARY CARLISLE

Will Return to Covington to Reside Permanently.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Secretary Carlisle is likely to remain an important factor in Kentucky politics. He remarked to a cabinet officer recently that he would re-enter the political arena.

He will in a few weeks return to Covington, where he will make his permanent home as in the past.

FURTHER ROTTENNESS

In the Management of German Insurance Co.

Louisville, Feb. 19.—Further investigation into the affairs of the German Insurance Company lay bare more and more rottenness in its administration, and it now bids fair to prove the biggest mess of crookedness in the history of the city. There can be no doubt that several of the officials have laid themselves liable to heavy penalties.

Newcombe Taken to Sturgis.

Pursuant to a dispatch from Sturgis Wm. Newcombe was this afternoon arrested by Sheriff Holland on a charge of "detaining a woman," on which charge young Hasseck was reticently returned there by his father. Newcombe has been on the chain gang.

SLICK THIEVES.

Lizzie and Jack Harris In Jail.

STOLE $300 LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Jack Lawson, Engineer at the Custom House, the Victim.

THE WOMAN IS HALF CRAZY.

Lizzie Harris and her husband, Jack Harris, well known colored people, are in jail here charged with grand larceny. They were arrested about 10 o'clock last night by Officer Barnhart on suspicion, and this morning it developed that $300 had been stolen during the night from Capt. Jack Lawson, the venerable engineer at the custom house, while he was asleep at his home, corner of Broadway and Seventh streets.

Yesterday morning the Harris woman applied to Capt. Jack for work and it was ascertained. He knew nothing about her and her tendency to steal.

He always retires early, and the supposition is that after he went to sleep last night the woman entered his room and stole his pocketbook, which contained $300 in paper money.

Later in the evening the woman was making a lavish display of money in Hauke's saloon, corner of Twelfth and Madison streets. Chief Singery was telephoned and sent Officer Barnhart out to investigate the matter. The Harris woman was not at home when the officer called there, but he noticed package after package of newly purchased groceries about and the woman's children were wallowing about the floor trying on new shoes and stockings.

When the officer arrived at the saloon he found the woman in the act of treating eight or ten colored men and women at the bar, and she had two ten dollar bills in her hands. She claimed that Capt. Jack Lawson gave her one of them and the late Mr. B. F. Wisdom the other. She was asked to go to the city hall with the officer, and her husband was taken up on the way there. He was very much averse to going and finally broke to limp and said he was unable to proceed farther, but the officer, nevertheless kept him going. The woman offered him $10 to let her husband go, but he declined. When the city hall was reached about $30 were found on the woman and the man was asked if he had any money, and said he did not. The officer found $1 and Harris then said he had another one. In one of his pockets, however, $30 was found, and he was made to disrobe piecemeal. He had on two pairs of pants, and after going through the entire outfit $77 was found distributed in various places. He claimed he knew nothing about how it came there, and was with his wife committed to the lockup.

A warrant was issued against them today and they were taken to jail to await trial. Although Harris is an old man, he is considered one of the slickest thieves that ever "did time."

The woman is subject to epileptic attacks, and in fact is regarded as a lunatic. She was kicked by a mule thirty years ago, and now has a silver plate under the skin on the top of her head, with which her skull was trepanned. She claims that during certain phases of the moon she has crazy spells, and she has many times fallen in the business parts of town with the epileptic attacks.

Capt. Jack Lawson is very unfortunate about having his money stolen from him. Several months ago a darkey stole over $600 from him, but it was recovered and the thief was sent to the penitentiary for three years.

The police made every effort to find what the woman had done with the remainder of the money last night, but to no avail. One of the bills she is known to have had disappeared right before their eyes last night, and they think she swallowed it.

BEER KEG

And the Damage It Did to Will Baker.

Will Baker, who keeps a saloon in the city, attended an entertainment at St. John's, in the county, last night.

He was brought in late in the night with a long gash cut in his head and carried to Dr. J. D. Robinson's office. His friends say a beer keg fell on him, the chime cutting a gash in his head. It required six stitches to close it.

AT IT EARLY.

Mayfield Horse Thief Jugged There.

Sold the Stolen Rig For $20 And a Watch.

James Morris, alias John Tarpy, a 17-year-old white boy, is in jail at Mayfield charged with horse stealing. The arrest was made only fifteen hours after the horse had been stolen. Morris confessed to taking the horse from Lee Walker's stable, twenty-five miles from Mayfield at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. He rode to Mayfield and sold the horse and saddle to Messrs. Carney & Key, liveryman, for $20 and a watch. Marshal McNutt made the arrest.

AN UGLY GASH.

A Steel Bar Smashes Frank Budde's Chin.

While at Work at the Illinois Central Incline.

Frank Budde, a carpenter on the transfer steamer Osborn, was painfully injured this forenoon at the I. C. incline below the city.

He was engaged in unloading piling from the cars at the bottom of the incline when one of the timbers fell and struck a large steel bar, causing one end to strike him across the chin.

He was rendered unconscious by the blow, a large gash being produced. He was brought to the city and had his injury dressed by the railroad surgeons.

IN CUSTODY AGAIN.

Oliver Allard Has More Troubles at Metropolis.

Refused to Pay His Wife Her $10 a Month Alimony.

The prisoners in the Metropolis jail may be in bad company, for Oliver Allard is back. Poor Oliver! who can suppress a sigh for him.

He has again displayed contempt for the court by refusing to pay his wife the $10 alimony she was awarded several months ago. Yesterday afternoon the sheriff of Massac county tied himself to Brooklyn, near where Oliver has his humble abode, with a paper calling for the body of the unfortunate ex-Paduchan, who did not want to go, but did go. He was held in custody at Metropolis, and will probably be tried tomorrow.

Allard was arrested only a few weeks ago for contempt in refusing to pay alimony, and was kept in jail several days until he raised $400 with which to liquidate. He was then released, but in the meantime another $40 has fallen due, and he has refused to pay it.

DIED AT HICKMAN.

Mr. F. Hellner, Father of Mrs. Jas. Koger, Passes Away.

Mrs. Capt. James Koger, of Jefferson street, was called to Hickman this morning by a telegram announcing the death of her father, Mr. F. Hellner, whom she did not know was even ill.

The deceased was 70 years old and agent for the N. C. & St. L. railroad at Hickman.

He leaves besides Mrs. Koger another daughter, Mrs. R. M. Isler, of Knoxville, Tenn., and a son, Mr. John T. Hellner, of Knoxville, who is agent for the N. C. & St. L. at that place.

Capt. Koger, wife and children left at noon to attend the funeral, which will probably take place tomorrow.

OLIVER AND KATE BYRON

At the Opera House Tonight.

What a happy conceit of the author of Oliver Byron's new romantic drama the "Turn of the Tide," which will be presented at the Opera House tonight, it is to make such a new and original character as Peggy Terrabocchio an "Hibernian Dago," as she calls herself. Kate Byron in this part shows herself again in one of those peculiar Irish characters in which she has won fame. Speaking choice Italian one minute and English with a soup con of "east side" classic thrown in to give spice to her remarks. She is imitatively droll. Byron has again hit the dramatic nail on the head.

HORSE THIEF.

Ed Cothran Sent to Jail Today.

GOT W. B. PRITCHETT'S HORSE.

Says He Borrowed It.—Will Be Given a Trial Tomorrow.

POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS OF TODAY.

Ed Cothran, alias Bingham, was committed to jail this morning on a charge of horse stealing.

Cothran is colored, and was on a little "toot" last night. He borrowed a horse and cart from W. B. Pritchett, the horse trader, and did not return it. Mr. Pritchett complained at police headquarters about 7 o'clock, and Officers Eaker and Orr were sent out to apprehend the thief. They secured a clue and followed him out the Broadway road. They drove twelve miles before they overtook him, then finding him on the roadside in a stupor, the horse being tethered nearby.

Cothran didn't want to come at first, saying that he would return the horse and jumper when he got through with it.

He denies that he had any intention of stealing it, and asked for a continuance when Judge Sanders called the case in the police court today.

Will Doyle, colored, was fined $30 and costs today by Judge Sanders for striking Mary Doyle, who called him for breakfast a little earlier than he wanted to be called.

George Trice, colored, was presented in Judge Sanders' court today on a charge of drawing a pistol on Joe Davidson, alias "Pistol." The charge is an old one, and as "Pistol" could not be found the case was continued.

Sam Randall, a colored hack driver, was presented on a charge of reckless driving. He came near running over Mr. Joe Parrish, of the Mutual Insurance Company. He was fined $5 and costs.

The case against Mack McCauley, colored, on two breach of the peace charges, was again continued.

Officers Sutherland and Harlan secured a search warrant and searched the Harris woman's house on Madison street near Fourteenth this morning but found no trace of the money.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.

Horse Turns a Buggy Over On Broadway.

A horse belonging to Agent Langston, of the Kimball Piano Co., created considerable excitement at Fifth and Broadway this afternoon about 2:30 o'clock by running away.

A colored employee of Allen's livery stable was in the buggy at the time, and when the vehicle was overturned he promptly leaped up and caught the horse before he could go farther. The harness and part of the buggy were broken, but the darkey escaped without a scratch.

FRIDAY, FEB. 19, 1897.

Our morning contemporary continues to spit and scold because it is not as important in the eyes of others as in its own estimation.

Jim Corbett's arrangements for training at Carson City were interfered with on the morning after his arrival by a nine-inch snow.

SENATOR WOLCOTT'S European visit in the interest of bi-metalism has fair to be characterized by the interviews with leading financiers which he does not hold and by work that he does not accomplish.

SENATOR LEWIS, of the New York legislature, who did such thorough work in unearthing the rottenness of the New York police system, has now the trusts under his catechism, and is turning them wrong side out, and showing their true inwardness to the public gaze in a way that bids fair to yield fruit to the advantage of the people. New York is apparently bent on the extinction of every species of combine.

A GEORGIA judge is also a colonel of militia and having a prisoner on trial and there being danger of an attempt to lynch him, he obtained authority of the Governor and ordered the regiment out to escort the prisoner to court and guard the courthouse while the trial proceeded. The sentiment in favor of the movement to lynch seems to have been inspired by an editorial in the Atlanta "Commercial," and the editor will likely suffer for contempt of court.

The reigning family of Greece is closely allied to the rulers of both Germany and Russia and her firm and determined attitude leads to the belief that she has not had assurance of support from these governments, she at least depends in some measure on them. Queen Olga was a Russian Princess, and the eldest son and heir apparent to the throne of Greece, Prince Constantine, is married to a sister of Emperor William, of the German Empire.

PRINCE GEORGE, of Greece, who is in charge of the Greek flotilla in Cre-tan waters is a modern Hercules, being 6 feet four inches tall. He is the sailor prince, being a devotee of the sea, and having given special attention to the torpedo arm of the service.
He is immensely popular with the subjects of his father. In case Turkey persists in her apparent determination to hold Crete by force of arms, the Grecian torpedo will no doubt do valiant service.

THERE is but one Greek newspaper in the United States, the "Atalantia," of New York. It may be credited with an understanding of the Crete situation rather above that of the average American journal. It says that there will probably be a war between Greece and Turkey, and that it will be carried into Macedonia and Asia Minor. It believes that every Greek throughout the world will contribute toward meeting the war expenses, and that many will join the Greek army as soon as hostilities open.

We are told that filled cheese is made from the bluest of skimmed milk, to which pork fat is added in the proportion of one to three. The flavoring ingredients are bisulphite of lime, borax, orris root, butyric acid, glycerine, caustic potash, slippery elm and a few other ingredients. The delicacy is completed by the addition of a rich yellow coloring material. No doubt a general knowledge of the ingredients will contribute largely to the increased consumption of this new product of American genius.

THERE is usually a hero for every occasion demanding one. In the recent storm during the passage of Admiral Bunce's squadron to Charleston, when Apprentice Kogel was washed overboard Wm. J. Creelman, a young landsman, immediately sprang overboard to rescue him. The heroism of the act was none the less worthy of recognition because the effort was unavailing.
The act of young Creelman has been recognized by a medal, presented by Secretary Herbert. The medal is of gold, and bears upon the face a picture of the United States ship Maine in relief. On the reverse is the inscription: "William J. Creelman, U. S. N., for extraordinary heroism, February 6th, 1897. Presented by the Secretary of the Navy."

A BILL has passed the lower house of the Washington legislature on the lines of the South Carolina dispensary law and has every prospect of passing the senate. The bill is known as the Cline bill, passed the House by a vote of 47 yeas to 30 nays, much to the surprise of the House itself. It was supported by nearly all the middle-of-the-road Populists and by a few silver Republicans. The proposed law puts full control of the liquor traffic in the hands of the Governor, but eliminates from the South Carolina law the profit system. The Governor appoints a state commission, which in turn appoints county commissioners, and they in turn appoint local dispensaries—all liquor being handled through the state commission, with a sufficient profit attached to pay all expenses of the different boards and dispensaries. No liquor is to be sold or drunk upon the premises, and minors or drunkards are prohibited from receiving it. It is to be sold only in quantities not less than a pint nor more than five gallons. The promoters are now confident the measure will pass the senate.

It now seems to be practically settled that Mr. Hanna will succeed Mr. Sherman in the Senate. It seems also highly probable that numerous statements sent out by the Associated Press and special correspondents from Ohio to the effect that Foraker and Bushnell were fighting Mr. Hanna, were determined to embarass the administration, etc., had their origin in the brains of the correspondents themselves, and had no basis in fact. Mr. George B. Cox, who is a recognized leader of the Foraker and Bushnell faction, has positively declared for Mr. Hanna for Mr. Sherman's successor, and at the same time states that he is no less the friend of Mr. Foraker and Governor Bushnell. This is taken as evidence of an understanding arrived at with the Governor and his following that Mr. Hanna should be appointed. If there really has been the opposition to Mr. Hanna reported in the dispatches, it proves that Mr. Hanna's consummate skill as a politician has served him well in his own behalf, as well as in that of the national Republican party in the recent campaign. Mr. Cox expresses his regret that Senator Sherman made his resignation take place March 5 instead of immediately, "as in that case Mr. Hanna's appointment could have been made at once and all adverse gossip ended."

A BILL is before the Illinois legislature to provide for the appointment of a board of pardons. This is a move in the right direction. This is the time required of the governor in the investigation of cases in which he is asked to extend executive clemency can be far better spent in attending to other business that falls directly under the requirements of his office.
At the same time the interests of the unfortunates can be much better looked after by a board appointed for that purpose, since the limited time at the disposal of the governor for such purpose, renders it impossible for him to do justice to the business. Under the pending bill the board of pardons is to be appointed by the governor, to serve for five years. This board "shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all applications made by any person for pardon or commutation of sentence from any judgment rendered by any of the courts of this state." Meetings are to be held every three months.
Applications for pardon or commutation of sentence are to be filed with the clerk of the board, and notice of such application must be advertised for three weeks in a newspaper published in the county where the conviction was had. This notice may be dispensed with "whenever, in the opinion of a majority of the commissioners, justice or humanity requires it." Applications must be accompanied by a statement from the judge who presided at the trial, and from the state's attorney who prosecuted. No pardon or commutation shall be granted by the Governor, except upon the recommendation of this board; but he may issue a reprieve or suspension of sentence until the application for pardon or commutation can be considered by the board.

The clerk of the board shall receive $1500 per annum. The salary of the commissioners is $2500, and $5 per mile going to and from meetings of the board. The sum of $12,000 is appropriated for the maintenance of the board for the next two years.

THE YOUNG MAN.
Ex Governor Long, of Boston, who will be Secretary of the Navy in the McKinley Cabinet, in addressing a young men's club recently, made some observations that are worthy of the thoughtful consideration of every young man who hopes to amount to anything in the sum total of American citizenship. Said he, among other things: "Young men are apt to depreciate themselves; they feel that they must grow before the older ones are interested in them. This is wrong.
Older men look to you, and the eye of the community is on every young man in it. He is being weighed in the scales. Every young man is forming his character in the eyes of those about him. If a young man can start with the feeling that he is one of the elements of society, that his character is being watched, he steps up to a higher plane, and feels his responsibility. Many a young man is throwing away his opportunity, and yielding to temptation.
"This is truly a government of the people. You are the governors of this great people. A mistake is made when Lincoln and Washington are held up for what they achieved.
Young men say they can't be Wash-ingtons or Lincolns. The mistake is made in placing the emphasis on the position and not the character. Not one man in 100,000 can reach Lincoln's position, but you can have the character and personal worth of Lincoln or Washington. We should have won the American independence without Washington, and saved the country without Lincoln, because our institutions have been turning out men of their description.
"It is not for you to be so ambitious to occupy the highest place as to secure character—to be the man and ready if called. One of the greatest places is that of a private citizen. Vanderbilt has no greater library than you have in this city; no King of England before the present century had such comfortable homes as you have; you have many municipal privileges without money and without price, and with all the advantages to start with what is the excuse for throwing yourself away?"

A JUDICIAL MURDER.
The Duettrow hanging so characterized.
Attorney Chas. P. Johnston, who defended Duettrow, made an address at his grave, in which he condemned in very strong terms the proceeding that led to the hanging of the wife murderer. Among other things he said:
No one has been his continuous associate since I took charge of the case but myself; and I wish to say here, in the presence of his remains, and to go out to the world, that he is a victim of a judicial murder.
His offense in all its characteristics was apparently brutal, but God had afflicted him in a manner which should have made him irresponsible in law. His offense, if any, should have been left to have been passed upon by his Maker. I never asked for anything during the prosecution of the case except his incarceration in an insane asylum. I realized the fact that there was the place humanity dictated he should be incarcerated and time would have brought out what I have known from the first—that the direct disease that man is subject to had become his lot. This is no triumph of the law. It is a triumph of prejudice and of ignorance as against every effort of science and of humanity. Every effort that I have made to get a humane view of this man's case has been thwarted by misrepresentation and by abuse heaped upon him, which he had no power to repel, and which I was powerless to counteract. The efforts of the most skilled, careful and conscientious physicians were of no avail.
All those expedients that years of wisdom and experience have incorporated in the law to protect the rights of the individual against the aggres-sions of high power or the cry of the mob have been treated, not only with indifference, but I may say with contempt by the press and by even subordinate and superior courts. Even the paltry request that Christianity guarantees to the condemned has been denied by a weak and vacillating executive. It is said that it is a triumph of the law and the puniishment of a victim. I say here, in the presence of my God, of whom I have full recognition both of his power and his mercy, that it is a disgrace to the humanity of the age and an illustration of a retrogradation to the cruel ascendancy of the rule of prejudice and the savagery of past ages. This man was not allowed the privileges of Christian burial. In his insane state, he imagined that he was another being than Author Duettrow.
Whether the ministrations of a Protestant preacher or a Catholic priest could have helped him any in his clouded intellect, I know not; but the opinion of the world has been that under such circumstances it is but right of the authorities of a civilized state to guarantee it to the highest and the lowest. Time was not granted to the few who were interested in his fate to consider of this matter. There are no such signs of the usual ministrations at the burial here.

BIG DEBATE.
Will Last Four Days—At Hazel.
Two Preachers Will Settle the Sunday Question.

An interesting religious debate will take place on the county line between Callaway and Marshall, next week. It will begin on the 23d and last four days.
The two opponents will be Rev.
W. H. Reed, a Seventh Day Adventist, and Eld. T. M. Matthews, of the Christian church. They will debate at Hazel, and large crowds are expected to attend.
The question involved is that of the Sabbath Day.

FEMALE CANDIDATE.
Mrs. Lizzie McGoodwin Tipped as a Winner in Graves.

Graves county, says a special to the Louisville "Times," is full of candidates, there being one candidate to every fifty voters. The county polls 6,500 votes, and the candidates number 130.
Of this number there are five for the office of school superintendent, among whom is Mrs. Lizzie McGoodwin, and she is tipped as a sure winner.
Mrs. McGoodwin is a daughter of Col. Edward Crossland, deceased, who was a congressman from this district, circuit judge and prosecuting attorney at different times, and one of the best lawyers in the Purchase. She is a sister to Hon. S. H.
Crossland, of the Mayfield bar, and sister-in-law to Hon. Burns Smith, governor of Montana. Mrs. Mc-Goodwin possesses a superior intellect, is full of pluck and vim, and will not be elected. She is the widow of the late Maj. Al McGoodwin.

AN EXPEDITION
Organized in Texas and Shipped for Cuba.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 18.—The "News" of today publishes the following story, which its reporters can not verify, except to strike disconnected fragments here and there:
"One of the largest Cuban expeditions that has sailed from the Gulf coast squared away last night for the Queen of the Antilles from Pass Ca-ballo, midway between Corpus Christi and Galveston. The expedition consisted of 3000 thoroughly-armed frontiersmen, mostly from Colorado, but many of them from North and West Texas and New Mexico. The Colorado and New Mexico contingents are part of Col.
Robert's organization that has been getting together in the Southwest for the last few days.
"The men forming the expedition have been sent to South Texas points in squads of five to twenty, many of them having passed through Houston and Galveston without suspicion as to their identity being aroused. They have been sent out from Dallas and Fort Worth and a few from Greenville and Texarkana by Cuban sympathizers.
"The vessel on which they sail tonight is owned by wealthy private parties, non-residents of Texas. It lay for several days last week near the port of Brazos de Santiago at a point north of the bar from which it quietly slipped out last Friday night, reaching Pass Caballo on Sunday.
During the last thirty days arms and ammunition have been shipped as hollow ware, white lead, hospital supplies and musical instruments. In all 140,000 rounds of mixed ammunition for rifles, shot guns and revolvers, which had been quietly gathered in North Texas points, the bulk of it at Dallas, some of it at Fort Worth, and some from the biggest arms companies in St. Louis, shipped from those cities under the direction of Cuban sympathizers and forwarded in such packages as not to arouse suspicion as to the character of their contents.
"The expedition hopes to join Col.
Rogers' command of Americans in Cuba or Gen. Garcia's. The point where it will land has been selected in advance, but is only known to the officers of the ship and the promoters of the expedition."

DEATH OF CAPT. WEYMOUTH.
Officer of the Alabama Who Became a British Subject.
Parkersburg, W. Va., Feb. 18.— Dr. John H. Weymouth, of Beverly, this state, has received intelligence from Liverpool of the death of his oldest brother, Capt. William W.
Weymouth, commander of the British cruiser Smyrna, at sea January 14. Capt. Weymouth was a Confederate naval officer, and served under Admiral Semmes on the famous Alabama. He was on the vessel when she was sunk by the Kearsarge, but escaped.
After the war he made his home in England, where he married and became a British subject, entered the royal navy, and gradually rose until he was placed in command of the Smyrna.

PRINCE GEORGE, of Greece, was in charge of the Greek flotilla of tan waters is a modern Hercules, 6 feet 4 inches tall. He is a sailor prince, being a devotee of sea, and having given special attention to the torpedo arm of the service. He is immensely popular with the subjects of his father. In case Turkey persists in her apparent determination to hold Crete by force of arms, the Grecian torpedo will no doubt do valiant service.

There is but one Greek newspaper in the United States, the "Atlantis," of New York. It may be credited with an understanding of the Cretan situation rather above that of the average American journal. It says that there will probably be a war between Greece and Turkey, and that it will be carried into Macedonia and Asia Minor. It believes that every Greek throughout the world will contribute toward meeting the war expenses, and that many will join the Greek army as soon as hostilities open.

We are told that filled cheese is made from the bluest of skimmed milk, to which pork fat is added in the proportion of one to three. The flavoring ingredients are bluish of lime, borax, orris root, butyric acid, glycerine, caustic potash, slip pery elm and a few other ingredients. The delicacy is completed by the addition of a rich yellow coloring material. No doubt a general knowledge of the ingredients will contribute largely to the increased consumption of this new product of American genius.

GOODMAN GOT GAY.

Sanctified Preacher at Mayfield Run Away.

He Was Suspected of Being Too Intimate With Mrs. Martin.

Rev. Robert Goodman, a peripatetic preacher, who located in Graves county, is missing. Last night a crowd of white-cappers, living near Mayfield, went out to administer a castigation to him, but he had fled. It was reported that he was encoined at the dwelling of a friend eight miles from Mayfield, but he was not, and doubtless he will be seen no more around Mayfield.

Rev. Goodman is a "sanctified" preacher. He made his appearance at Mayfield over a year and a half ago, and took up his residence with James Martin, who lives two miles from Mayfield. Goodman is a small, sallow-skinned man, and he and Martin were very congenial companions, because they were both sanctified. Martin has a wife, however, and seems to have been spared this delectable attribute. Evidently she was not sanctified. But she is described as being a handsome, voluptuous woman who helped in the singing. During the year and a half the impeccable minister lived in the same house with her, an attachment sprang up between them, it seems, and if reports are to be credited this developed into a liaison.

Their alleged intimacy was never suspected by the guileless Martin, however, until Wednesday last. Perhaps his own innocence and perpetual absorption prompted him to believe all others his counterpart.

Wednesday Goodman announced his intention to go to Water Valley to hold a meeting, and asked Martin to permit his wife to accompany him. Martin declined, and left home, ascertaining when he returned that the person and his naughty spouse had been away together all the afternoon.

A storm followed. The scales fell from his eyes, and probably his sanctification vanished. The neighbors were apprised of the existing state of things and became very indignant at the conduct of the traitor. A crowd of them, under cover of darkness, went after the festive hypocrite, but he had fled.

They intended to apply the lash to his naked back, as a scourge of conscience seemed impossible. But he could not be found. It was subsequently ascertained that he had gone to another house eight miles away, asserted his sinlessness and signified his determination to hold the fort. Last night they went after him again. Goodman has a brother who is also sanctified.

This pair of itinerant preachers have held meetings in various parts of Graves county, and very often in the court house yard at Mayfield. The absconding brother always did the preaching.

ST. JOHN'S HALL.

New Hall Dedicated Last Night In the Parish.

An amusement hall just built at St. John's Parish, this country, was opened last night. Nearly 400 persons crowded the building to its utmost capacity, and witnessed an entertainment of surprising merit, the circumstances considered. A tableau, "The Holy Family" made a beautiful picture. The farce "My turn next" evoked roars of laughter, and several character and dialect sketches aroused enthusiasm to the highest pitch. All the parts were taken by residents of the neighborhood, being composed of the members of the Poth, Prof. Junker, Kaufmann and Englert families.

Mr. Frank Gugert, of this city, did a capital turn, and Mr. Farnham assisted in the musical numbers. Some vocal numbers were contributed by Miss Rosa Kimble, of St. John's, and were highly successful. A large number of visitors from Paducah attended, and many more will attend, as the entertainment is a success.

THE COW ORDINANCE.

Judge Bishop Agrees to Give His Opinion.

He Will Hear Arguments on the First Available Day.

Judge Bishop, of the circuit court, today consented to take up the cow ordinance question as soon as the present term of circuit court closes, which will be perhaps in a few days. Mayor Yeiser went to him today and asked him to decide the case at once, as there had been considerable talk of it. He then agreed to hear the agreement of facts and arguments thereon the first day he has an opportunity.

Mayor Yeiser stated this morning that he had never intentionally misrepresented anything to the council, or to anyone else, and that he thought he was right when he made the statement at the last meeting. No appeal has been taken in the case, but the question of the constitutionality of the law will simply be referred to Judge Bishop, both sides agreeing to abide by his decision.

MORE THIEVES.

There Have Been Too Many Burglaries Recently.

Mr. Mike Bradley's House Entered Last Night.

Paducah seems to be again infested with burglars and petty thieves. For the past few weeks at irregular periods various burglaries have been perpetrated in various parts of the city.

The latest was last night at the residence of Mr. Mike Bradley, on North Tenth street. The thief entered a window, and stole nothing of value except some change from John Bradley's pocket.

A few nights ago Mr. Ben Martin's residence on South Tenth was despoiled of all the provisions in the house, and a day or two before a fine watch was stolen from Mr. Bowman's home on Seventh street.

The police are making diligent efforts to catch the thieves.

MORE BLOODHOUNDS.

There Are Now Four in Fulton, Ky.

Messrs. Mace McDade and Jesse Walker got two more young bloodhounds Tuesday, giving $50 each for them. They are three months old, and come from the celebrated Southern registered stock, "Mack" and "Redstone," Nashville, Ill.

These dogs are the most famous trailers the world over, and regular man-haters, following a cold trail two or three days without food, and come from prize winners.

The stock is a cross between Cuban and Southern bloodhounds, combining pluck and staying qualities with an extraordinary delicate and sure scent.

This addition gives us the best pack of blood hounds in the South, and Fulton should show her appreciation of the enterprise shown by Messrs. Walker and McDade in a substantial manner. Why not fit up a public kennel and exercise yard or station where the animals can be kept convenient to officers?—Fultonian-Democrat.

DEATH OF CAPT. WEYMOUTH.

Officer of the Alabama Who Became a British Subject.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Feb. 18.—Dr. John H. Weymouth, of Beverly, this state, has received intelligence from Liverpool of the death of his oldest brother, Capt. William W. Weymouth, commander of the British cruiser Snyrna, at sea January 14. Capt. Weymouth was a Confederate naval officer, and served under Admiral Semme, on the famous Alabama. He was on the vessel when she was sunk by the Kearsarge, but escaped.

After the war he made his home in England, where he married and became a British subject, entered the royal navy, and gradually rose until he was placed in command of the Snyrna.
